RELATED TO LIFE CYCLES - THE SECOND INTERVAL: 30 - 38 years

If your life path number is higher, this means that your final year of the first life cycle is lower. The lowest number in that sense has the biorhythm number 9.

Life challenges present the experience that a person will go through during a period.

Life culminations point to a perspective of undergoing one's experience.

CYCLE NUMBER 1

The people with this life cycle number are meant to become independent and self-reliant. This means that they will have to resist and avoid constant temptations. The other people always expect them to be courageous and inventive. However, this constant support of others is not equally returned to them. They learn about life on their own and they go through life alone. They have to be ready for hard work and great effort in life without feeling much compassion. They usually have to be prepared "to take over the command" and to lead others without being selfish, arrogant, stubborn and introvert. They will encounter many obstacles in life and they have to be careful about what they wish in order to be able to realize it.

They must have strong will to achieve the desired position and they also have to learn to adapt to difficult situations and circumstances. In this way, they will grow stronger and reveal their hidden abilities, especially the organizational ability and faith in themselves. They will develop themselves as leaders in every sense. They will be aware of the power they possess with the help of which they will have chances for many great accomplishments in life. If they are brave enough, they will achieve anything and their hard work will almost certainly pay off. There are no pleasures without hard work. They need to be righteous, generous and adaptable. They should also consider the opinions of others.

Their dissatisfaction may cause them to become closed, arrogant, egocentric, stubborn and inconsiderate. These characteristics can only bring them enemies and conflicts in life.

LIFE CHALLENGES - THE THIRD CHALLENGE = 1

LIFE CULMINATIONS - THE FIRST CULMINATION = 7

RELATED TO LIFE CYCLES - THE FIRST INTERVAL: 0 - 29 years

If your life path number is higher, this means that your final year of the first life cycle is lower. The lowest number in that sense has the biorhythm number 9.

Life challenges present the experience that a person will go through during a period.

Life culminations point to a perspective of undergoing one's experience.

CYCLE NUMBER 7

This period will not be easy at all and the chances for success are minimal in the "sea" of difficulties and sudden changes. These people need to rise spiritually and to go through bad experiences caused by their behaviour. They are rebels who cause conflicts, who want to be independent and who strive to change things around them although it may be difficult. They have to realize that it is themselves they have to change and not the world. They have chances to be successful if they become diplomatic, tolerant and cooperative.

They are interesting people who are often lonely and distanced. Instead of forgiving others, they cause conflicts after which they become dissatisfied and unhappy. It can be said that they are the victims of their life who need to find themselves in time and space. They should take care of injuries, various diseases, physical handicaps and their nervous system.

They will learn a lot during this period. They will invest in themselves, particularly in their intellectual development. They will probably remain lonely, introverted people with a few friends. They will live in some sort of isolation and they will probably work alone.

The best financial advice to them is the following: they should not invest money or incur debts. Their investors will not pay them back and their debts will only grow bigger.

LIFE CULMINATIONS - THE SECOND CULMINATION = 8

RELATED TO LIFE CYCLES - THE SECOND INTERVAL: 30 - 38 years

If your life path number is higher, this means that your final year of the first life cycle is lower. The lowest number in that sense has the biorhythm number 9.

Life challenges present the experience that a person will go through during a period.

Life culminations point to a perspective of undergoing one's experience.

CYCLE NUMBER 8

This period is different for them than the others. Everything is relaxed and peaceful. These people are satisfied with themselves and they have everything that they need. Many believe them to be born under a lucky star but they always need somebody else to push things up. Everything in their life seems to be the result of their good fortune. They do not have to put great effort in what they do. This is the period of peace but they should always carry out what they have planned.

They have an unusual way of life. They get everything they need without much hard work and effort. Other people see them as lazy persons but they are just too relaxed. They have the incredible capacity of transformation and disguise. They use this ability to fulfill their desires and this usually helps them. However, this period also has some contrasts. They like to help others and are very naïve, which the other people may use. This is what causes their disappointment and suffering as well. On the other hand, a too relaxed attitude they have may simply waste a lot of their time.

Those of them who are clever and skilful engage themselves in the financial matters. They have good visions to improve and increase their material possessions. They easily take over the power and management and they easily deal with complicated situations. They are capable of leading great companies. Even though they are not the one in charge, they will almost certainly be in the centre of attention and happenings. They are the ones who help others and solve their problems in an unusual way. Their temptations are money, power and position. There lies a danger that they may disregard their human and spiritual side. Their life lesson is the following: they should experience power and material values in order to be able to define the right measure in life. If money is their priority, they will almost certainly become its slave. If they manage to find a balance in their need of money and material values, this will certainly be a happy period in material and spiritual sense. They may expect financial support and reward.

Everything is too easy and beautiful to them. They are careless people who are not so interested in serious relationships.

LIFE CULMINATIONS - THE THIRD CULMINATION = 6

RELATED TO LIFE CYCLES - THE THIRD INTERVAL: 39 - 47 years

If your life path number is higher, this means that your final year of the first life cycle is lower. The lowest number in that sense has the biorhythm number 9.

Life challenges present the experience that a person will go through during a period.

Life culminations point to a perspective of undergoing one's experience.

CYCLE NUMBER 6

Can life be more beautiful? This is a period of harmony within a family and time of love and happiness. However, the more responsibilities and obligations there are, the more demanding the family will become regarding attention and love. An authoritative parent may slow them down regarding their job, education and obligations. They may feel like victims because of that. They focus their attention only on their family and friends. Some of them even marry early and leave this oppressive family environment. The other people may try to take advantage of them. They have to learn how to keep their dignity. They can become a shoulder for crying but they should not allow to be manipulated by others. They should be careful about how much they give to others and they should maintain healthy relationships with other people. They should not meddle in the life of others unless they ask them to. This is the basic outlook of this period.

If they do everything in the right way, this period will be full of love and understanding, stable relationships and friendships. They will be the central persons in these partnerships. They are creative people and they bring peace and harmony between the opposing sides. They manage to find a solution in difficult situations. They are ready to take risks concerning their financial plan. They have a positive attitude towards their job and the authorities as well. If they have a hobby, they can be almost certainly rewarded for it.

This period will bring them very important lessons in life. They will learn how to act in the relationships and how to give and receive love. It is important that they realize how to direct their energy and how to adjust their obligations and interests. Others will recognize their capacity to help others. These people should pay attention to their health, particularly to their weight. This period reveals their kind, helpful and gentle nature.
